Peace Move Splits IRA

BELFAST (AP) - The Official wing of the Irish Republican Army announced Monday night that it is suspending its guerrilla attacks indefinitely, but the rival IRA Provisionals accused the Officials of surrender and vowed to fight on. "So far as we are concerned, the fight goes on," a Provisional statement said. "We look upon this surrender as a gigantic confidence trick aimed at giving firmer control to the Official wing of their undisciplined members."

The Provisionals have been responsible for most of the bombing and guerrilla attacks in Northern Ireland, and a spokesman said the faction won't stop them until all political prisoners are released and the British army leaves freland's six northern provinces.

The Officials announced in Dublin that they will confine themselves to political and "defensive" military actions to while the police depot is under head off civil war between the Protestant majority and the

1. Bilateral Relations

Guided by the desire to place U.S.-Soviet relations on a more stable and constructive foundation, and mindful of their responsibilities for maintaining world peace and for facilitating the relaxation of international tension, the two sides adopted a document entitled: Principles of Mutual Relations Between the United States of America and the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics," signed on behalf of the U.S. by President Nixon and on behalf of the U.S.S.R. by General Secretary Brezhnev.

The two sides attach great importance to the treaty on the sile systems and the interim agreement on certain measures with respect to the limitation of strategic offensive arms concluded between them.

They are a concrete ex-

Both sides are convinced that the achievement of the above agreements is a practical step toward saving mankind from the threat of the outbreak of nuclear war. Accordingly, it corresponds to the vital interests of the American and Soviet peoples as well as to the vital interests of all other peoples.

The two sides intend to continue to active negotiations for the limitation of strategic offenciple of equal secutiry.

Relations

Both sides agreed on measures designed to establish more favorable conditions for devel-practice. Believing that these aims would be served by conclusion of a trade agreement between the U.S.A. and the U.S.S.R., the two sides decided to complete in the near future the work neclimitation of anti-ballistic mis- essary to conclude such an agreement. They agreed on the desirability of credit arrangements to develop mutual trade and of early efforts to resolve other financial and economic issues. It was agreed that a lendlease settlement will be negotiated concurrently with a trade

In the interrest of broadening and facilitating commercial ties between the two countries, and to work out specific arrangements, the two sides decided to create a U.S.-Soviet joint commercial commission. Its first meeting will be held in Moscow in the summer of 1972.

Each side will promote the establishment of effective working arrangements between organizations and firms of both countries and encouraging the conclusion of long-term contracts.

Maritime Matters, Incidents

The two sides agreed to continue the negotiations aimed at reaching an agreement on maritime and related matters. They believed that such an agreement would mark a positive step in facilitating the expansion of commerce between the United State and the Soviet Union.

There are probably more automobile accidents caused by heart disease than by epilepsy, if for no other reason than the high inciddence of heart disease in our society. In general the whole concept of medical fitness for driving which should include medical, psychiatric, and drug use, including alcohol, needs a good overhaul. There would be a lot of difficulties in implementing any good program for this. Many of the people responsible for any such legislation, merely by virtue of their own age and their own disabling dis-eases, would oppose it.

Nixon promptly asked Congress to rename SACB the "federal internal security board" and to endorse its new function. Rep. John M. Ashbrook, R-Ohio, sponsored the ganizations. Federal agencies administration measure.

Later, some groups challenged Nixon's order in federal court. The judge dismissed the suit, but indicated he would set the order aside as vague and overly broad if enforcement is attempted.

Meanwhile, Chairman Richard H. Ichord, D-Mo., handed his Internal Security Committee a rival proposal that he termed "more-radical surgery."

Under the Ichord bill, SACB would be abolished through repeal of the 1950 law under which it has functioned. In its place, Ichord proposed a "constitutional oath support" law creating a federal employe security and appeals commission to determine the character of subversive groups and to serve as the appeals board for federal workers dismissed because of loyalty or security questions.

Gunman RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) - Police say Sen. B. Everett Jordan apparently was not the target of a young gunman who killed three persons and wounded eight others before taking his own life at a shopping center where the senator was campaigning.

The gunman "just broke out his gun and started shooting, first one way and then another," Police Chief Robert Goodwin said. "We don't know why he was there." A witness, Bruce Bland of Raleigh, said the gunman was "aiming at anything that moved."

Police Capt. C.H. Haswell said he doubted Jordan was the target because so many people were shot.

Jordan, a Democrat on an unannounced handshaking tour. was rushed into an optometrist's office when the rifle shots rang out Monday among hundreds of holiday hoppers at North Hills Shopping Center.

Jordan was not hurt, but his news secretary, Wes Hayden. was shot in the back. Hayden was reported in serious dondition at a hospital.

Jordan, 75, said, "I have to reason to believe anyone would try to kill me." He and his opponent in the Democratic primary runoff, U.S. Rep. Nick Galifianakis of Durham, had declined protection offered by state authorities after the shooting of Gov. George C. Wallace in Maryland two weeks

Money Bills Late; Crunch for U.S.A.

WASHINGTON (AP) - With the 1973 fiscal year little more than a month away, it looks as if the government will revert to its usual hand-to-mouth budget until Congress wraps up the annual appropriations bills.

Of all federal government functions, only Congress itself may be fully funded when the new fiscal year begins July 1.

The only appropriations bill which has cleared both the House and Senate is one setting spending for Congress and related functions at $514.7 million for the year. But even that has been stalled by a disagreement.

Read How Whirlpool's Permanent Press Actually Works.

Permanent, press is a finishing process that is applied to a garment AFTER it has been made and carefully pressed, so the garment is intended to stay pressed, permanently. However, when a permanent press item is heated it becomes pliable and must be handled carefully to avoid setting in wrinkles. When these garments are cooled they are again resistant to additional wrinkling.

Whirlpool washers Permanent Press cycle with Cool Down Care provide the correct laundering answer. Permanent press garments are washed at hot or warm temperatures and the agitation speed appropriate for the kind of garments in wash load. However, the last 4 minutes of washing is with gentle agitation, automatically. (2-Speed machines only.) "Wear" wrinkles are eased out during washing. Next, Cool Down Care takes place, again, automatically. About half of the wash water is drained and the tub refilled to the originally selected water level with cold water. 2 minutes gentle agitation takes place to mix the cooling water with the floating garments. Next, these two steps are repeated, about half the water drained, cold water refill, 2 minutes gentle agitation. By now the garments are cooled and wrinkle resistant again.
